A TAMEETING OF THE NEW YORK VOLUNTEERS.
A held in the Library, City Hall, April 20, at 3 o'clock, P.
M. Col. J. C. Burnham, chairman, and William Peel, secretary, the following statement was presented, and resolutions passed:

We have distributed throughout the city of New York, and stons passed —

We have distributed throughout the city of New York, and its environs, in all places where we deemed it probable we could sell the same, 4,255 tickets. On the night of the benesit every ticket taken at the door was instantly deposited in a box, the key of which was left in the hands of Mr. Meore, it. Heller's then agent. After the performance was over, in the presence of Mr. Heller, the box was opened and the tickets counted Mr. Heller's then age.

As will be seen by the record of tickets received, our benefit, if we had only been paid for the tickets absolutely used, would have been only, gross.

But as many gentlomen, although unable to use their tickets, yet paid for them as donations, we have realized above this.

We have been informed (but have not had an epiportunity cursolves to ascertain from him in person) that Mr. Heller conceives the amount in his possession only liquidates his claim against us for expenses. Certain it is we have not received one cent from him of the sum which he retains. Signed for committee. JOSEPH T. SWEET, Chairman. GEORGE W. NORRS. Treasurer.

Having been present at the time the tickets were counted, in my capacity as agent for Mr. Heller, I vouch for the accuracy, in every particular, of the above statement.

We deem it necessary, in exculpation of ourselves from ungenerous comment, to make the following statement, and verify it under each. We have been actuated by a sincere desire to allevlate the wants of the New York Voluntoers in our recent action in their behalf; we have kept our expenses under the strictest supervision, have personally spared no emores to insure success, have all been, more or less, out of poolsts in this matter, and do solemnly swear that, entitled poolsts, and in the poolst in the part of the continuity of the poolsts in the matter of the continuity of the poolsts in the matter of the continuity of the part of the continuity of the poolsts of the part of the poolsts. WASHINGTON, April 20—8 P. M.
I learn that the Post Office Department intends to give immediate notice that hereafter the single rate of letter postage, between the United States and Brazil, via Eng-land, will be forty-five cents, instead of eighty-seven cents, as heretofore—pre payment required.

Also, that a direct communication by British mail packets running once in two weeks between Singapore and Batavia, having been established in connection with the over-land mails to India and Australia, all letters, newspapers, &c., addressed to Java, or to any of the Dutch possessions in India, will in future be forwarded by these packets, unless specially directed to be sent by other conveyance. The regular mails for Java are to be made up in London for transmission, via Marsellles, on the 8th of each of the months of January, March, May, July, September and November. But letters and newspapers may also be sent, if so addressed, by the route of Southampton, on the 4th of each of the months above mentioned. The rate of postage to Java, to be prepaid, on letters sent from and collected on letters received in the United States is sixty-five cents per letter of less than a quarter of an ounce in weight, via Marseilles, and forty-five cents per letter weighing less than half an ounce, via Southampton.

The change in rate and reduction of postage on letter to Brazil is in accordance with a postal agreement between the British government and Brazil, recently con-

The chief director of Prussian posts, Mr. Waldeyer, has addressed the United States Post Office Department, that the letters forwarded from New York and Boston by the closed mails for Prussla, frequently reach Cologne with seals injured and the envelopes torn off; and money, which is often enclosed in the letters, is found in the offices there, escaped from the letters. A request is made that proper direction be given to the postmasters here that all letters for Germany be scaled up officially in a sufficient and durable manner, and similar proceedings are to be observed also in Prussia. The matter will of course receive the prompt attention of the department. A statement appeared in the Republic, with reference to a contested case in the Pension Office, affecting the construction heretofore placed upon the law granting pensions to widows and children of deceased soldiers. The matter was not at all correctly stated, and, as it is one of importance, I give the following as the facts :- The law in question provides that in case of the death of the widow of a soldier, then the pension shall revert to the deseased soldier's children. There the law stops; but Secretary Thomas Ewing decided that, although the act of Congress goes no further than to the children, the common law steps in and carries the pension to any other heirs. This decision has governed the matter since. Governor McClelland, the present Secretary of the interior, has, however, decided that this construction of the law is wrong. If the Pension law had passed previous to the enlistment and service of the soldier then it would have formed a part of his emolument for service, and as such would come under the provision of the common law, like any other property, to the extent even of being liable for his debts. But it was a law passed after the service had expired, and formed no part of the contract for service. The pension is simply a gratuity given by Congress after the government had fulfilled all its agreement and duty towards the soldiers, and as such thorize, and no further. This cuts off a large number of claimants, but the decision is manifestly in accordance with law.

Reported Massacre on Board the Whaling Brig Ingn.
Boston, April 20, 1853.

Hosron, April 20, 1853.

The New Bedford Mercury publishes a statement, to the effect that the whaling brig Inga, of New Bedford, had been cut off by the natives of Pleasant Island, and her crew massacred. The story is obscure, and not credited

It is, however, certain that there had been trouble or board the Inga, but it is not so certain that the trouble arose from the natives. One story, brought by the ship D. Gosnold to Hong Kong, was that the natives came or board, under pretence of trading, and attacked and murdered the captain and all the crew but one. The other story is that the natives plundered the vessel, but it does not say that the crew were murdered-in fact, the parrator says that he saw two of the crew on shore among the natives.

Cincinnari, April 28—P. M.

The Anti-Slavery Convention continues in session. A resolution is now under consideration declaring, among other things, that abolitioniats seek the true intiests of the South, and that the pro-slavery men at the North are great enemies to Southern interests. Samuel Lewir, on introducing Garrison, and referring to the charges of infidelity against him, said he himself is an infidel if pro-slavery men are to expound Christianity. He deemed the idea that men may be slaveholders and Christians more odious than any of the notions called infidelity in anti-slavery men.

First —On Tuesday, about 12 o'clock, a fire broke out in a three story frame dwelling house in Third avenue, between Eighty-seventh and Eighty-eighth streets; owned by James McGwin. The lower part was occupied as a carpenter's shop, and the upper part as a dwelling house. Immediately after the alarm several ire companies were on the ground; but before they could put any water on the fire, the entire building was enveloped in a mass of fames. The fire then communicated with an adjoining building, belonging to Mr. Bingham, and occupied as a feed store, which was entirely consumed. His slock of hay and straw was partially saved by the exertions of the police and fire department. His loss is estimated at $1,200, on which there is no insurance. Mr. McGwin's furniture was partially saved; but the building was entirely destroyed. He estimates his loss at $3,000, on which there is an insurance of $500. The fire is supposed to have originated in the carpenter's shop.

On Tuesday evening a fire was discovered in the store of C. Socchitz, importer of grinding stones, No. 5 North William street. The flames, which proceeded from a box of cotton, were quickly extinguished by the Fourth ward Pelice, who conveyed the box out of the store into the street. No water was used on the occasion.

ACCIDENT.—About 11½ o'clock, A. M. on Tuesday, two men, one named Pine—the other man's name was not ascertained—were knecked off the staging attached to a ship building in Westervelt's yard, foot of Seventh street, E. R., by a stick of timber which was being hoisted on board the vessel. They fell to the ground, a distance of some 25 feet, dangerously, if not fatally, injuring themselves. The wounded men were conveyed to their respective residences, and medical aid procured. There are but alight hopes of their recovery.

ACCIDENTS.—On Tuesday afternoon, a lad named Robert McNames, whose parents reside at No. 200 West Twenty-first street, while in the act of getting off car No. 25, Eighth avenue Railroad, stumbled and fell before the wheel, which passed over one of his feet, crushing it in a shocking manner. The lad was taken home, and the physicians, who had been called in to dress the wound, stated that he thought the limb would have to be amputated. A CHILD SCALDED TO DEATH.—Coroner Hilton yesterday held an inquest, at No. 163 Leonard street, upon the body of a child, two years old, named Mary Leddy, who died of scalds received about two weeks since, a basin of hot water having fallen from the arms of a sister of the deceased over her. A verdict of accidental death was rendered by the jury.

SUICIDE OF A MUSICIAN OF THE NAVY YARD BAND.—A young Italian, named Francisco Celesti, aged about twenty years, and a musician attached to the Navy Yard band, committed suicide at his bearding house, No. 186 York street, on Tuesday night, and was found dead in his room yesterday morning. He purchased a sixpence worth of arrenic at a drug store near his residence, representing that he wished it for destroying vermin. Under the pillow of his bed was found a letter, in which he stated that he had taken the poison with the intention of destroying himself, but did not give the cause for committing the deed. LUMBUR YARD DESTROYKO.—About cleven o'clock last evening a fire broke out in a shed in the lumber yard of John M. Cantine, foot of Amity street. South Brooklyn Before the flames could be extinguished two stables adjoining were enveloped and destroyed, with the contents, consisting of two horses, several carts, harness, &c. owned by Hugh Farlan and Samuel Lowry. As near as an estimate can be made—Mr. Cantine being absent from the city—about $5,000 worth of lumber was destroyed. The books and napers were all saved by the police and Sheriff's deputies.

Capt. H. Churcumli.—Dear Sir—The undersigned, your passengers from fan Juan to New York, being desirous of a trifling present, (which will be ready for delivery on your return to New York), as a memento of your constant attention and unwearied efforts to promote our comfort during the passage now about terminating. We sincerely trust that you will not measure our esteem by the intrinsic value of the gift, but that you will consider it, as intended, a voluntary tribute to sterling worth.

With many thanks for your kindness, and our best wishes for your future prosperity, we romain your friends.

Gentiemen—Your very kind letter of the 11th ultimo, expressive of sentiments highly flattering to myself, came to hand previous to the departure of my ahip on her last veyage; and had not your letter contained an intimation that on my return I should hear from you again, in what you are pleased to term a more substantial manner, I should have replied to it ere this. But, gendemen, your kindness, more on the alert to bestow than I am worthy to receive, has, in a note of this date, accompanied by a magnificent silver trumpet, reminded me of my obligations to friends and fellow voyagers, endeaved to me by reminiscences of pleasant hours and such unmeasured kindness, more on the alert to bestow than I am worthy to receive, has, in a note of this date, accompanied by a magnificent silver trumpet, reminded me of my obligations to friends and fellow voyagers, endeaved to me by reminiscences of pleasant hours and wel

ARTHUR SPRING-ATTEMPT TO COMMIT SUICIDE ARTHUR SPRING—ATTEMPT TO COMMIT SUICIDE.

This wretched criminal has attempted to cheat the gallows of its due. From the time of his sentence on Saturday until yesterday, he refused to eat and drink, and had reduced himself to a very feeble condition by his course of abstinence. It was also found that he had placed tobacce in his armpits and slept with it in that position. It is said that tobacce placed in those parts for a long time has a very prostrating effect. Yesterday the condemned man yielded to the cravings of hungor, and partook of some food that was offered him. He eat sparingly, however, as though he had not relinquished his determination to destroy himsif. It is not probable that Spring will succeed in his attempt at self-destruction; he is too great a coward to withstand the temptation to eat while suffering the terrors of inanition, and there is not much probability that he would resort to more violent means to accomplish his purpose. Even though he had firmness enough to die by his own act, those who have charge of him will take care that no means for accomplishing his design will be left within his reach—Philadelphia Bulletin, April 20.

BURNING PRAIRIES.—During the past week the heavens have been lighted almost nightly by the burning of pasities in all directions. The winds have been high, and we fear great damage has been done to many of our farmers by the burning of fences, stacks, and other properly. The dwelling house of R. F. Winslow, Esq., a few miles east of this city, was, on Friday last, eatirely destroyed by firs, communicated from the burning positie.

Important from Mexico.

[From the New Orleans Picayune, April 14.]

By the arrival of the schooner Bonita, Captain Spiss, we have received our advices from Vera Cruz to the Lst instant, and from the city of Mexico to the 27th ult.

The Bonita brings Don Agustin C. de Iturbide, bearer of despatches from Judge Conkling to the government at Washington, and brings the original draft of the treaty between our Minlater and the Mexican government, guaranteeing the neutrality of the Isthmus of Tehuantepec and the possession of the right of way to A. G. Siloo & Co. Senor de flurbide left the city of Mexico on the 25th ult. The terms of the treaty have not yet been made public.

Co. Seasor de l'arbide lett the city of Mexico on the 20th ult. The terms of the treaty have not yet been made public.

Santa Aras arrivel at Vers Cruz on the 1st instast, on the steamer Avon, and would remain some days at that place, when he would leave for his eatate, the Encero, near Jalapa, with an excert of two regiments which had been sent dows for that purpose:

Gen. Lombardid, Gen. Urega, and Senor Robles waited in the sity of Mexico the arrival of Santa Anna. There is no political news of impertance.

The treaty has been ratified by the government. Don Ramon Clarts left to-day for Vera Cruz and the United States, with the ratified copy of the treety.

The Universal says it is not deemed proper to publish the Tehuantepec treaty, signed a few days since, until both parties have ratified it.

Senor Offigosa, ex-Sanator and agent for the State of Oajaca, in the contract of that State with Mr. Sloo, had sent a copy of the ontract made by film with Mr. Sloo, to the government of the State. It was submitted to the Council and manimously approved.

The arriver of Santa Anna seems to have excited very little enthusianm among the Mexicans. Many of his immediate adherents, among whom we notice Senor Tornel, one of the negotiators of the Tehuantepec treaty, had left the city of Mexico for Vera Cruz in order to meet him. The Sighio says, with some significance, in a review of Senor Escobar's report:—

"Instead or the represences which Senor Escobar put in the mouth of the Chenral, we would rather have heard his

Under the title of bipglelle the same paper announce hat Gen. Lombardini has issued a decree, authorizing that Gen. Lombardini has issued a decree, authorizing Santa Anna to use and wear any crosses or other decorations which he has received or may hereafter receive.

The Supreme Government have ordered that unocupied leads in Lower Californis, or Sonora, or Sinalos, to the value of $200.000, be given to the heirs of Don Augustin de Hurbide, on account of the million of dollars granted to him for having effected the independence of the country.

to him for having effected the independence of the country.

A war of castes is said to be on the eve of breaking out in Onjaca, on account of the proceedings of Gov. Martinez. All the arms in the capital of the State, 4,000 stand, had been distributed to the different departments. Bands of Indians had appeared in the capital crying "death to the white."

A forced loan of $500,000 had been levied in Guanajuato by the Governor. Of this sum, $50,000 had been demanded from Senor Munoz Lodo, $150,000 from Godony and $80,000 from Iburgoongoitia.

The affair of Senor Falconnette, relative to bribing the deputies, was making much noise, and it was said that he was preparing to leave the republic. Fifty two deputies had combined to prosecute him.

In Durango the Governor offers a reward of $200 for every head of an Indian, and the same for each prisoner killed or taken within the State.

We are indebted to a passunger, per the schooner J. Truman, for numbers of the Comercio de Tampico* to the 6th instant.

News was received in Tampico of the arrival of Santa Anna, in Vera Cruz, on the English packet of the 1st. The Comercio says that this news was received with great demonstrations of joy, firing of cannon, &c.

A letter was received in Tampico from Santa Anna, who specifies his wishes in relation to the political coarse which should be pursued. He recommends the preservation of order. He requires that the inhabitants of the State should have an unlimited confidence in his motives for the good of the nation; that they should unite to save the country; and that no conjectures be made about him in relation to the system which should be adopted. He ends by recommending that they should watch and pursue the traitor Carvajal.

On the 4th instant a very severe gale, blowing from the north, caused some damage among the shipping on the side of the river opposite Tampico.

Tampico, April 7, 1353.

We have but little of interest at this point, but are looking out for some important movement at the capital, our or shortly after Santa Anna's arrival there. You will no doubt have seen, through your Vera Crus correspondence, that he arrived by the British steamer at that port.

On the news reaching here, there was great rejoicing, dence, that he arrived by the British steamer at that port.

On the news reaching here, there was great rejoicing, cannon firing a national salute, rockets sent up to the ky as if the pathway to heaven was receiving a new light, whilst a Te Deum was chanted in the church, as an all hail to the saint. On the 4th instant, a grand ball and suppers were given by the civil and military autnorities of this place, at the national expense, in honor of the return of Sasta Anna, as all Mexican eyes look up to him as the saviour of Mexico, not only from war and civil commotion, but for a new code of laws in the financial affairs of the country, to return her sankon credit and to sustain her nationality. The result remains to be seen.

I must give you an outline of the grand ball given on the occasion. The salocu in which it took place is very I must give you an outline of the grand ball given on the occasion. The saloru in which it took place is very spacious, about 100 feet in length by 45 in breadth. Most tastefully fitted up, at the head of the room, on an elevated platform of some ten feet high, was seated the band of musicians, and on the facade of the platform the Mexican eagle perched on the nopal, (or cactus.) and under it a portrait of Santa Anna, with the national flag on each side, and the arms of the Trate of Tamanlipas. All this arrangement was tastefully done. The room was filled with all the beauty and fashion of Tampico, which is imposing, and calculated to impress a stranger very favorably for so small a place; and the good order was in keeping with the scene. The floor of the ball room was covered with a scarlet carpet, and also the entrance, and ornamented with spangles, whilst the Mexican Senorata, with that grace peculiar to the Spanish and Mexican ladice, whirled in the giddy waltz, the pelka, quadrilles &c. with all that case and elegance for which they are famed.

At one o'clock supper was announced, and the band struck can ladies, whirled in the gliddy walts, the polka, quadrilles &c., with all that ease and elegance for which they are famed.

At one o'clock supper was announced, and the band struck up a march untit all the ladies were seated at a most sumptuous table. The supper room was ornamented with national flags in festoons around the room, and triculored streamers from the corners and centre of the room were attached to the great chandelier which was suspended over the centre of the supper table.

I noticed that all the persons of distinction of this place were present—the Commanding General and the captain of the Port, both of whom are fine looking officers, ale, the American, Euglish, French and Prassian Consuls, and others, with all the foreign merchants of note residing at Templeo.

At the supper table many fine teasts were given most of which were, in sentiment, quite patriotic, and it seemed as if the principal toast master had just returned from Parassus; his cup and head were full of poetic fire, all coming from the fountain head. Some good couplets, complimentary to Santa Anna, were given. Then came the fair senoritas of Tampico, who were compared to the stars, and to youth's season in the spring-time of life. The band then played Santa Anna's march, loud and long vivas were given for his return, and wishes expressed that he might live a thousand years—"Santa Anna viva mil anos."

All passed on with perfect order until 4 A. M., when the

All passed on with perfect order until 4 A. M., when the All passed on with perfect order until #A. W., when the head officers retired—the band playing a grand march. Lombardini is still provisional Fresident, and the tariff acems to operate well in all the martime ports, but the late importations have rather glutted the market with American domestics. Santa Anna has returned to an empty treasury, and his measures remain to be seen.

Later from Texas.

A new election for municipal officers is to take place in Galveston on the 18th inst., the election held some weeks since having been declared illegal.

The Civitian learns that the Catholics are about to erred a college in Galveston, of sufficient dimensions and with ample endowments to make it an institution of the highest order.

The same paper learns that Runnels, who killed Hausborough last summer in Houston, has been tried at Montgomery Circuit Court and acquitted.

The Galveston News, of the 8th instant, says:—It is the opinion of well informed merchants of this city, that the receipts of cotton at this port, now remaining of the present crop, will be at least 25,000 bales. There is said to be a large amount of cotton yet to come in from the Upper Colorado and Brazos, and from some other parts of the country, and the arrivals will probably continue till July. The total receipts at this port are expected to be about 70,900 bales. Up to the present time the excess of receipts over those of last year to the same time, is 10 817 bales, as shown by the report of Doswell, Hill & Co. The shipments from other ports of Texas last year were about 20,000 bales, and if the increase at those ports is equal to the increase at this, the total amount will exceed 100,000 bales. The amount sent to New Orleans from parts, which will make our entire crop over 200,000 bales. The Leon Pioncer learns that a Mr. Jones, who resided that the total receipts in Montay resided to the equal to the care was to the resided to the equal to the care was the proposed to be equal to the amount shipped from our own ports, which will make our entire crop over 200,000 bales.

own ports, which will make our entire crop over 200,000 bales.

By The Leon Pioneer learns that a Mr. Jones, who resided near the Navisoto in Rogers' prairie, Grimes county, was found shot in his house a short time since. It is supposed that the deed was perpetrated by some one of his own family, as he had not been on good terms with his wife and others of them for some time. The accused parties, it is said, have been arcested, and required to give ball for their appearance.

COMMON PLEAG—SPECIAL TERM AND CHAMBERS.

Hen. D. B. Taylor rose and addressed the Court as follows:—May it please your Honor, I rise for the purpose of moving this honorable Court upon a subject not unusual, but of no frequent occurrence. The sad intelligence which reactive us late on yesterday, of the death of William Rufus King, Vice President of the United States, is this morning confirmed. The ensigns of our country are at this moment mournfully waiving over every hill and valley of our vast country, and the millions of our free people are wrapped in sad contemplation over this great calamity. It is true the pure judiciary of our government is wisely relieved from the excitement and turmoil of political and legislative life, and the bar finds in its high ligitimate calling a different theatre. Yet both are so connected with the fruits of legislation that an indissolable link between them must, and of right should exist. In obediance to this rule our courts have, from time immemorial, respected the death of the wise and exalted of our lamb by suspending their legal investigations for limited periods. This necessity presses solemnly upon us at this moment. The one our country now mourns has for more than thirty years past shone as a bright star in the constellation of our wise and good men. During the last two or three years these lights have gone out in rapid succession, until at this moment the rising generation loos with an interest reaching to lear that the high places now vacant can be filled no more. Mr. Ring's death had been anticleated for several meeths. He sought a Glead even in foreign climes, but the physician was not there, and all the skill of mortal failed to resist the slow but surcoming of death. He has, however, left a name and a character behind him, which will live in the bright for the day, as a token of respect to the memory of fint spirit which is now no longer with us.

DEBATES IN THE COMMON COUNCIL ON THE DEATE OF THE VICE PRESIDENT.

[Our Special Report.]

On the assembling of the Board of Alderman yesterday afternoon, Alderman Waxo moved a prearable and reseport, in doing which he made some very feeling and appropriate remarks.

Alderman Dourses seconded the resolutions in an excellent and well-digosted speech. He was anxious that a fitting tribute of respect should be paid to the man whe had so faithfully served his country for upwards of forty years, twenty saven of which had been passed in Congress. He then reviewed, in a very able and clear manner, the leading events of Ar. King's life and concluded by expressing his feeling that the loss of a life so marked by great services and sacrifices on behalf of his country should call for a corresponding and concurrence and in a fair strain, at the conclusion of which the resolutions versus missously adopted, and the Board adjourned till to normal.
